Latest News!

Domestic.

The public debt was reduced during May $3,070,108.

The House resolution to adjourn June 17th has been concurred in by the Senate.

In New York city, during May, ninety-five business failures occurred, the liabilities being $5,500,000 and the assets less than $1,000,000.

Major Ilges, commanding the 7th infantry at Fort Benton, informs military headquarters at Chicago that Sitting Bull, with 2,000 well-armed warriors, contemplates an early invasion south of the boundary line.

The Union Pacific will arm all train men on express trains, owing to liability to robbery. Twenty-six repeating rifles were ordered Saturday. No information concerning the whereabouts of the four men who robbed the sleeper on last Tuesday's west-bound express has yet been received.

The Potter Presidential investigation commenced in Washington Saturday. James E. Anderson, previously Supervisor of Feliciana Parish, Louisiana, was the first witness called. This witness is relied upon by the Democrats to furnish evidence upon which they hope to impeach Secretary Sherman.

Foreign.

The latest statement is that of 500 men on the Grosser Kurfurst, the German ironclad sunk in the English channel on Friday, about 210 were saved.

A Vienna correspondent says: The Turkish people and army, especially the latter, are greatly irritated by the reinstatement of Mahomud Damad Pasha and other reactionary signs.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the public are semi-officially warned not to believe the various reports concerning the concessions by Russia. The people, nevertheless, fear they are too great.

It is now officially announced that the German government has issued invitations for a congress of the European powers to assemble in Berlin June 11th. Prince Bismark will preside.

The people of Russia are greatly dissatisfied at the secret negotiations now in progress. They fear the results of the war will be nullified. Austrian occupation of Adakaleh confirms them in their suspicions.

The war cables are again vindicated. The congress meets. Russia has made moderate concessions, but none which will deprive her of the substantial fruits of the war or which will rehabilitate Turkey as a powerful enemy in her path. The concessions include nothing which Lord Derby did not know could be had long before his retirement from the ministry, which seemed bent on war with Russia or her humiliation. The result is his vindication. To the congress is referred only strictly international questions, including the navigation of the Danube and opening of the Straits. It is doubtful if the congress will sustain England's demands that Russia shall have neither territory nor security for her war indemnity. The best opinion is that the matter will all be disposed of during the month of July. The Anglo-Russian agreement that Russia shall retain Bessarabia of itself abrogates the Treaty of Paris, for which England professed solitude until she had bound Russia not to sit down at Bajazid on England's road to India. This bargain is also England's final abandonment of betrayed and fallen Turkey. The whole scheme is recognized as an absolute diplomatic triumph for the Czar and a substantial defeat for the Beaconsfield policy.

Old Stories Retold.

The worthy man had observed that his worthy hogs were afflicted with vermin. Now, therefore, he went for his oil can, and when at night they were convened in the piggery he, taking a candle, proceeded to apply kerosene to the surface of each pig. But the last one annointed did unwittingly (as meaning no harm) get itself astride the candle, and, a cloud by day, became a pillar of fire by night. Then, with the same intelligent instinct which prompts a man with a swarm of bees about his ears to seek the pleasures of social intercourse with his fellow citizens, this blazing porker wedged itself in among its companions, and in the brief period of time required for the conception and execution of a wink that herd of hogs was all afire! It was no end sad; it was as melancholy as ever it could be. The swine went forth through the broken walls of the fold each bearing its tower of flame and lifting up its voice. And when the country was again all dark, save for fitful flashes along the far horizon, the good man stonily, yet earnestly, and with apparent sincerity, averred that he would be Dad gummud!

A few years ago a lady of Oakland found a miserable and repulsive-looking tramp drunk by the wayside. Touched with compassion, she raised, revived, fed, sheltered, and ultimately reformed him. He afterward secured employment as a hog herder in a distant part of the country, and his benefactress lost sight of him. Last week a clean, well-dressed, and manly man called at her house, and the following conversation occurred: "Is it possible, madam, that you do not know me?" "Why, really; yes—no, it can not be—" "Indeed it is. You have been the good angel of my life. To you I owe everything; you have made me what I am." "And you are—" "A book agent. And I sell sewing machines on the installment plan. I also take orders for lightning rods, and have the finest assortment of chromos ever offered in this country. If you would like to insure your house and furniture you will find in this pamphlet full of—" The sentence was never finished; the fallen tramp caught the lady's eye, and it froze him into a superior article of monumental marble; and as an ideal statue of Total Depravity he disgraces the vestibule of a local gallery of art. And that lady, by abatement from benevolence, is piling up a colossal fortune that is a menace to the State. —Argonaut.

The agony is over. The "sports" have drawn their wagers and the loquacious glamor of the local gossips is as silent as the harp which hung in Tara's Halls. Yesterday when the case of S. M. Pollard—charged with the offense of false personation—was called before Justice Abbott, the case was dismissed at the instance and request of the prosecution. This was the last of the three charges which had been preferred against the defendant in this most remarkable prosecution, and of course S. M. Pollard, whether man or woman, is again as free as the sunlight. Thus ends one of the most incomprehensible transactions which ever appeared before any examining magistrate in Christendom. Thousands who reside at a distance and who are unacquainted with this strange, eventful drama will doubtless regard the whole affair as a most ridiculous farce, but we who are familiar with the entire surroundings, feel that there is and was, a mysterious something involved in the affair which baffles conjecture and thwarts the understanding. The reticent, discreet deportment and sang froid of Pollard, together with the inexplicable conduct of his mate, intensifies the mystery, and now that the legal proceedings are at an end a feeling of general wonderment pervades the community. Pollard still adheres to his promise to satisfy the public mind, and renewed his pledge to us yesterday that he will shortly make a satisfactory statement through the columns of this journal. In the meantime the taxpayers of this county have reason to rejoice that the expensive bother is at an end. —Times-Review.

The Burlington Hawkeye says: The Missouri Press Association is now in session at Springfield, Missouri. We wanted to go, awfully, but we couldn't. The onion bed needs weeding, the grass in the front yard hasn't been cut yet, the veranda bed has to be spaded up, the baby is teething, and the tramp to whom was given our only summer clothes is prowling around Indiana hen roosts in them. Indeed, brethren, we can't get away.

The Austrian government utterly distrusts Russia, and this feeling is now shared by the Court and Cabinet, so that Austria's policy is no longer hampered by divided councils.

The health of Grotshakoff is not sufficiently improved to give much hope of his attending the congress.

A BODIE ZEPHYR.—The Emerald

Herald of June 1st has the following: There appears to be, at times in Bodie, some misunderstanding in relation to the ownership of town lots, buildings, etc. These little troubles usually are settled with a wordy war and that is the last heard of them. But last Sunday night the style of doing the thing was varied. About dark a party of men began removing a well-known saloon that had been in litigation for some time past. They did not take the house down just according to architectural rule, but they took it down all the same, and put it in sections and quarter-sections on the other side of the street. Several persons tried to see the manner in which it was done, but owing to the way the boards, posts, rocks and other misall, a few about they considered it not safe to be too inquiring, and therefore kept at a respectful distance. When daylight came the lot was vacant and there was not a vestige of the house to be seen, unless a mass of broken and splintered lumber down the street could be called such. Washoe zephyrs are proverbial for their fierceness, but it is doubtful if Bodie can not make a stand-off.

John Heubner of the United States bakery is suing in Justice Cromer's Court to recover about $40 from Joe Hausman. One of the items in the bill is "$15 for a wedding cake," and another "50 cents for bread" furnished for wedding supper." —Eureka Republican.

The Hawkeye learns that several persons have been guillotined in Paris for persisting in speaking the French language. The French government justifies its course by saying the people of France can't stand everything.

An exchange having asked the question, "What shall we do with the tramps?" the Hawkeye responds that the question on the Burlington side of the Mississippi is "What will the tramps do with us?"

AN UNDERSTANDING.

The Enterprise quotes us to this effect:

We might also, if disposed, say that Mr. Hobart had the honor once of being with the people on the bullion tax question, but, unlike the Enterprise, we should be generous enough to add that he flopped, and advocated the compromise in all its length and breadth.

The Enterprise then goes on to urge the old reasons for a passage of the compromise, none of which are worthy of quotation, and then concludes in this fashion:

And lastly, in view of the will of the property owners of this section of Nevada, as shown by their petitions, not only Mr. Hobart, but Mr. Schooling, and almost every business man and man of property in western Nevada, favored the bill; and more, before it was introduced Governor L. R. Bradley agreed that if a bill could be prepared which would satisfy both Schooling and Hobart he would sign it. These are the facts, and the only argument advanced at the time or since against it was, and is, that by appealing to the non-tax paying men of this State—who hate every one who has money—a majority could be had to oppose the measure. Left to the tax-payers, to the men who have a real interest in the State, and the measure would have carried by a two-thirds majority. In the foregoing we are simply expressing the views of one left in charge of the Enterprise, without orders, for a week, and wish it distinctly understood that the paper is not bound by these views at all.

The people of this State have never been in favor of the measure, and the Enterprise knows it. We do not concede to Governor Bradley the entire credit of his action in the matter, by any means. But we know that the executive act which killed an infamous measure has received the approval of our people. We are surprised that the Enterprise should perpetuate its folly in supporting the measure, as it can have but one effect. It will strengthen Governor Bradley, and weaken the Republican candidate by spreading an impression that the Republican party, through its organ, opposes the people. No candidate who favors the compromise can be successful before the people, and the Enterprise writer ought to be instructed if he does not know it. This fact is admitted in the quotation above where the writer says he does not wish to bind the Enterprise. That is a significant admission which will please every Republican who hopes for party success this fall.

TAX-PAYERS' MEETING.

Tuesday evening, June 4th, was the time set for the resumption of the argument upon the present condition of our county treasury. We are informed that Cain, District Attorney, concludes not to speak, and the whole case will probably be summed up under Mr. Julien's extraordinary resolution, which provides that the tax-payers shall declare the grand jury report unfounded. An anonymous apologist has said that further discussion is in bad taste. We should have argued with him had it not been for Mr. Julien's exhaustive resolution. It now appears to us, however, that before such a resolution is passed, tax-payers ought to learn the true inwards of the entire matter. This will be set before them to-morrow night in condensed form, and it is the duty of every tax-payer to be present and understand his own interests. This is your money, gentlemen, and if you have no interest in caring for it, no one has. At the meeting to-morrow night facts will be presented which have not yet been known to the public. Come everybody and bring your friends. The last meeting to-morrow night.

Horace Greeley, once remarked that you might say good things of a public man daily for sixteen years and get no thanks for it, but cap it all with a half column of criticism, and you hear from him instantly, and are made to feel the weight of his displeasure.

Information has been received that Register McFarland, of the Sacramento Land office has resigned for the reason, it is understood, that its fees are altogether inadequate.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Eureka Sentinel has enlarged to a seven column paper and entered upon volume XV. The Sentinel has been an earnest champion of Eureka.

Beecher is coming. He will be exhibited on the Tom Thumb plan. It is believed that the anxiety to see him will draw $3 from the curious; $2 50.

In copying the following from the Eureka Republican we cannot forbear exclaiming "true enough." Of all the wild nonsense yet printed over the Potter business, the Eureka Sentinel's editorial contributions are the shallowest, the cheekiest and the most absurd.—Reveille.

J. T. Williams, a leading farmer of Nye county and a warm personal friend of Governor Bradley, thinks the old man needs a rest and is in favor of giving it to him. He is of the opinion that the third term movement is the work of a ring numbering not more than twenty men in the State.—Elko Post.

Mr. J. T. Williams may not be accurate about Bradley's strength, but in regard to his need of rest there can be no mistake.

Every officer elected by the people should be directly responsible to that people for his conduct, and, when sworn, he should do his duty faithfully and impartially. We deem it our duty to praise or condemn, the acts of all public officers, according to merits or demerits. This may be called public clamor or by whatever name may suit those in position. The public have a right to petition their servants, and that, too, without being interrogated as to why they do it. These things if kept in front will be of great benefit to officers and citizens.—Elko Post.

Efficient fire department, Kettle Belly Brown, known all over the United States, and throughout a large area in Asia and Africa, ordered out a hose cart in Virginia on Saturday, to show the crowd of Renoites what sort of work he could do. In one minute two steams were going over the top of the International. When the stream was first turned on the two firemen were unable to hold it, and several bystanders were moistened in consequence. The work, however, was done in a very short space of time, and before a crowd had time to assemble the fire department was again housed.

This item, from the New York Tribune is excellent reading:

It pleases the overburdened Democratic editor to allude to the Republican party as a band of robbers, and to try to give a color of excuse to his revolutionary party scheme by saying that when a man has a horse stolen and tries to get him back again, that is what the Republicans call revolution. This is a false statement of the case. Rightly put it would be: The Democrats were trying to steal a horse. They had the backdoor open and were looting the horse when the Republicans caught them and claimed the horse as theirs. A wordy wrangle ensued, threatening war and blood unless the horse was given to them. Arbitration was proposed and instantly agreed to by the Democrats, though objected to by the Republicans. Finally, both sides pledged themselves to accept it, and to abide by the decision. The horse was awarded to the Republicans. Whereat the Democrats set up a howl of fraud, and have continued it till the present time. They are now engaged in a scheme for breaking into the stable and taking the horse by force.

Despite the protestations of the Congressional supporters of the Potter resolution, letters from their constituents all assume that it contemplates an assault upon the President's title, which will be ineffectual except to create public distrust. Many of them assume that the attempt to reduce the army is a part of the same programme, and assert that this, also, will give the Republicans a good issue before the country. George H. Pendleton is outspoken in declaring the Potter investigation unwise and dangerous to the country and to the party. He does not know what it is for, unless it is the first step toward the removal of the President, which would be revolutionary. It is significant that Democratic state conventions omitted from their platforms any approval of the attempt to oust the President. The Senate military committee will report against the army reduction. The Republicans will also unanimously oppose the army bill, and prohibition of the use of the army as a posse comitatus. There is danger of a dead-lock between the two houses on these provisions.

The sales at the San Francisco Stock Board for the past week aggregate $1,800,000.

Jerry Bruce, driver of the Genoa and Silver Mountain mail stage, was shot May 30th, by a man named Wood Flippin, who asked to ride. Bruce at once stopped his team and as he did so Steppen fired and shot him with a shotgun loaded with pistol bullets. After which Bruce whipped his horses into a run. The wounded man has been brought to Genoa and his wounds are dangerous. The citizens of Alpine are out in force in search of the assassin, who, if found, is liable to meet with speedy punishment.

The old Board of Directors of the Wells Fargo Mining Co. have resigned, the following and have been elected in their places: J. M. Walker, President; Dr. Coryell, Vice-President; E. M. Hall, Robt. Sherwood and A. J. Adams, Trustees. James T. Crossman has been elected Superintendent.

The Virginia relief committee will meet next Monday, when the proposition of disbanding will be considered. There is no money on hand and no prospect of raising any. The committee has done much good work since its organization.

It is no wonder that a critic recently remarked that "The Raven" savors of ancient Greece. 'It is poe-made.

WILLIAM CAIN,
District Attorney of Washoe Co., Nev.
May 20th, 1878.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada vs. Sarah
J. Smith, Greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by A. A. Smith as plaintiff, in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe,
State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons, (exclusive of the day of service) if served in said County, or twenty days if served out of said County, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days;
or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.
The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between you and plaintiff, who alleges a marriage between you and him in September, A. D. 1872; that ever since you and he have been, and now are, husband and wife; that on the 31st day of March, A. D.
1877, you, the defendant, without cause and against his will, wilfully deserted and abandoned him, and ever since have continued to so desert and abandon him; that there is no common property, and are no children living of the issue of said marriage. Plaintiff alleges that he is now, and for six months next preceding the commencement of this action has been a resident of the County of Washoe and State of Nevada, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county.

And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I, P. B.
COMSTOCK, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 11th day of May, A. D. 1878.

P. B. COMSTOCK,
